THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 17, 1867. State Items. ROBBERT.-We learn that the store of Mr. Albrecht was broken into on last W dnesday night, and several watches, which had been placed in the nands of Mr. E. C. Denaux for repairs, were stolen. These little sportive raids are getting too con in the town to last much longer. Somebody is apt to get hurt. The Metropolitan Saloon was also subjected to this species of black mail a short time before, and we have heard of several other attempts to commit burglary lately. It would be well if people would see that they leave no doors open fter dark .- Orangeburg Times. We learn that a public meeting will soon be called for the purpose of taking into consideration the erection of a factor. In our District. The sooner we put the ball in notion the better. Our readers doubtless read with interest the abie article on the subject, published in our last issue.—Ibid. DEATH OF J. BETHUNE GLASS, Esq.-Our com munity was shocked yesterday by the announce-ment of the sudden death, from heart disease, of this esteemed citizen. He was at his place of business (Greenville R. R. Depot) as usual in the morning, and feeling some slight indisp sition, yielded to the solicitation of one of his brother lerks and came up to town. While scate t in the drug store of Dr. Miot, having a prescription predrug store of Dr. Miot, having a prescription pre-pared, he passed away with scarcely a premonitory indication of his approaching end.

Mr. Glass was in the prime of life, and here where his whole life had been spent, his unwaver-ing integrity and devotion to business had se-cured for him the highest respect of the community.

He was one of the few survivors of the "Palmetto Regiment," having served honorably through the war with Mexico; was for many years Post Master of this city, and at the time of his death was agent of the Greenville and Columbia Railroad Company .- Columbia Carolinian. We learn from the Carolina Spartan that Major T. O. P. Vernon has been appointed by the Gov-ernor, Judge of the District Court for Spartanburg

AN OLD ENGLISH CUSTOM REVIVED .- BURIAL OF A SUICIDE AT MIDNIGHT. The London Morning Star has the following : For the nrst time within a quarter of a century

Norwood Cemete y was last midnight the scene of the burial of the corpse of a felo de se without Ohristian rites. The coroner's jury, which last evening at six o'clock found that the commercial evening at six o'clock found that the commercial clerk William George Williams had committed the crime of self-murder, imposed upon Mr. Sergeant Payne the necessity of issuing his warrant for the burial of the body by torchlight between that time and midnight. The last verdict of feio de se returned at Guy's Hospital was in the case of a person that died there twenty years are; and on that occasion the horrible form of driving a stake into the holy was gone through with. The ghastly the body was gone through with. The guastly ceremony was performed in the burial ground ad-jacent to the hospital, and it is said to have been almost the last instance in which that obsolete barbarism was exercised in London. Lest the tradition should be, by any misconception, carried out in the present case, the coroner expressly ordered that no stake should be used.

About nine o'clock last night a common market cart, drawn by an old horse, emerged from the hospital gates. The end of a deal coftin hung over hospital gates. The end of a deal cofin hung over the tail-board, and the name "Williams." written on it with a piece of chalk, showed that it con-tained the body of the suicide. In the course of an hour the cart, with its burden, was drawn up on the highway alongside a hedge, at Norwood. The night watchman at the cemetery was called, and informed of the business on hand. The func-tionaries at the cemetery were just going to bed, and were completely taken by surprise by the proand were completely taken by surprise by the pro-duction of the warrant for an immediate burial so late at night, for a case of the kind had not occur-red there for twenty-six years. Mr. Gardiner, the superintendent, sent messengers to the neighbor-ing public house, and was fort nate enough to find two grave-diggers there. These men were promptly set to work at the southeast corner of the cemetery, beneath some lime trees. When the grave was deep enough, the cart, which had been left out on the high road, was driven into the grounds. The men unceremonicusly lifted the coffin from the cart, and, guided by the flickering light of the lanterns, carried is to the roughly-made grave. The excavatio I was longer than the coffin, and at either end near the bottom a candle was stuck into the earth, where, screened from the wind, which blew strongly and whistled through the trees, they cast a sickly light upon the mellow clay. The coffin was lowered into its place by means of ropes, the earth was instantly shovelled in and stamped down, the lights were put out, and AN EXTRAORDINARY YARN.—The London Engineer, in the course of a discussion of the fervent heat with which the elements composing the incontinual state of fusion, introduces the following story, which has been going the rounds of the French papers, all of which seemed to absorb it with edifying credulity, as worthy the careful at-tention of scientific men: "Not far from the Falls of Niagara was a glacier, belonging to a company who realized enormous profits by the sale of the ice in the Western cities during the summer months. A few days later than the Aspinwall exmonths. A few days later than the Aspinwall explosion, an aurora borealis, of magnificent proportions, was observed wheeling its shafts, several nights in succession, in the northern sky, causing two lightning conductors on the top of the glacier (1) to emit long electrical flames of a bluish color. In the meantime a boiling noise was heard inside the glacier, accompanied with a disengagement of gas and occasional loud detonations. A captain of militia ventured to enter an opening in the ice with a light, when the glacier burst with an explosion that shook the whole country. Happily nobody was killed except the unfortunate cap ain, of whom not a trace could be found. The glacier contained 16,000 tons of ice, and after the explosion there was a fall of lukewarm water over a space of 500 yards in diameter. The theory of the cause of the explosion, is that the two lightning conductors on the glacier acted under the influence of the electricity as the two poles of a volfinence of the electricity as the two poles of a vol-taic battery, and decomposed the ice into a mixture of oxygen and hydrogen gases, which, of course, exploded with resistless power on the introduction of a light."—Rochester Democrat.

A CURIOUS CASE.—An interesting law case is pending in the United States Supreme Court. The Grey Jacket, a vessel built and owned by T.mothy Meaher, of Mobile, Alabama, was cap-Tmothy Meaher, or Module, Alabama, was captured by a United States vessel and condemned as a prize of war. The claimant now prays for a reversal of the decree of court by which the vessel was convenied and the payment to him of the proceeds of the sale. He claims to have remained loyal to the United States, and alleges that he was mable to leave the Confederacy until the time of mable to leave the Confederacy until the time of his capture. He states that he built the Grey Jacket and loaded her with cotton for the purpose of escaping with his family to a loyal State, and when he got outside of the port of Mobile gave himself up to a United States vessel and demanded protection. He claims that his vessel cannot be libelled and condemned as a blockade-runner, because white the deal of the state cause, although she did run the blockade, it was with no criminal lutent, but merely for the pur-pose of placing himself and property under the protection of the United States. Apart from the amount of money involved, which is about three hundred thousand dollars, the points of law which will be decided are of the highest importance, and are looked forward to with great interest by a large number of persons.

The principal questions are: First, that of the right of persons to remove property from the South after two years from the beginning of the war; and second, the power of the Secretary of the Treasury to remit forfeitures of property cap-tured and condemned unjer the law of war. Still another question—one of fact—is whether Mr. Meaher really surrendered willingly; and furthermore, whether if he could have gone scot-free of the blockade, he would not have run his vessel into an English port. We opine that the latter must have been his real destination.

COMMON SCHOOLS IN MAINE.—The Augusta, Me., correspondent of the Boston Journal gives some interesting facts in regard to the educational progress of Maine. The writer says that there is a general anxiety to have access to the latest and best modes of teaching, and there is leaven at work which will yet represent an action the work which will yet permeate and enliven the whole educational system. The normal school whole educational system. The normal school at Farmington has now arrived at a point of progress where the mind of the legislature will be called to prepare for a decision as to its permanency and its support. Referring to the proposed normal school at Castine, the superintendent says that if the Legislature shall find that the conditions of the location of the school have been complied with, and shall decide to appropriate the pecuniary means for carrying out his design, he trusts that these means will be made ample enough to supply the requisite teachers and the ordinary needs f.r. a promising commencement. The number of school districts in the State is 3771; number of school-houses 3727. Forty-four were built last year at a cost of 325,609. GOULD'S "MEPHISTOPHILES."—One of the most original viscoes of sculpture we have seen in many a day has just been put on exhibition at Snedecor's Gallery, No. 708 Broadway. It is the production of Thomas Gould, of Boston, and, in addition to its marked originality of characterization, it exhibits skill of technical execution of the very highest order. The psychological student, no less than the samatour of art, will find abundant material in it for study and admiration. The conception of the character is as far removed from the traditional types of Retsch and Haulback as the latter are from the nondescript being, with hoofs, tail and horns, which served as a Stanic bugbest of the south provided diablers of the latest phase of civilization—the product of the excessive, but one-sided, culibure of the present day, with its intons ambition and exclusive worship of intellect, to the neglect of the sout. MISCELLANEOUS. THE BEST TONIC NOW IN USE I

SARATOGA 'EXCELSIOR" SPRING WATER.

THE WATER OF THIS SPRING IS BELIEVED TO be unequalled by that of any other in the far-famed valley of Saratoga Its virtues are such as have secured it the high encomiums of all who have used it, possessing, as it does, in an eminent degree, cathartic, diuretic, alterative and tonic qualities.

From SAMUEL HENRY DICKSON, M. D., Professor Precises of Physic, Josephus, Medical College, Philip. Practice of Physic, Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, formerly of Charleston, S. C.:

PHILADELPHIA, November 15, 1865.

I have been for a year or more past in the habit of taking the water of the "Excelsior" Spring of Saratoga. Accustomed during the great portion of my invalid life to use the different waters of the several fountains which hall no along that remarkacle valley dependent, indeed.

to use the different waters of the several fountains which boil up along that remarkarle valley, dependent, indeed, upon them for much of the comfort I enjoy, I am satisfied that the Excelsior Water is as well adapted as any other among them, if not more so, to the purposes for which they are generally employed. It is very agreeable, strongly impregnated with the carbonic acid, lively and sparkling. * * * I can heartily and conscientiously recommend it to all who need a gentle cathartic and diuretic.
